

Makhtumkuli Faraghi Publication

Hello dears,

I'm [?] from Turkmen Sahra in Iran, manager of Makhtumkuli Faraghi Publishing.

In today's world, human beings spend most of their times in social networks, which provides a suitable platform for the growth and expansion of friendship at the community level. Also, creates a deep psychological dependence, which in turn the individual influenced by many different political, social and cultural affairs. One of the problems facing multicultural societies in the [?] attack the ethnicities on social networks. This misbehavior which results in ethnic, division and ultimately hatred, should be recognized by the international legal community as a social crime and crime against human society, and special laws should be enacted to prevent the development of this blended cultural crime. Given that social networks are managed by [?] interrelation systems, so the sense of responsibility for the publishing content and its destructive effect is on the owner of this industrial network, which should be more widely and professionally monitored by enacted necessarily laws to prevent the creation of data problem for minority, as well as the development of the hatred in human societies. We hope that with the beginning of cultural movement by young and aware society around the world, we will see the [?] in discriminatory antihuman [?] movement toward different ethnic groups, minority and community.

Thanks!
