

Speaker: [no sound]...the rights of the Xinjiang people of all ethnic groups to be effectively protected. Firstly, the Xinjiang's population has increased in recent years, which makes the so-called genocide rumors nonsense. Compared to 2010, the population of the Uyghur group has increased by 1.62 million. Up by 16.2%. Which is 10.882% higher than the average growth rate nationwide. Secondly, the traditional cultures of all ethnic groups and the diversity and spoken language spoken in Xinjiang, have been well protected. More than 10 [inaudible] and [inaudible] are used among the ethnic groups including culture, education, literature, and art and many other fields. When you visit Xinjiang, you listen to and watch programs in minority languages, including in Uyghur. Folk culture events are widely celebrated. The labor force from minority groups in Xinjiang can choose their jobs freely, and their language skill can be an advantage for them in some cases. Based on those facts, we can say that these so-called genocide, forced labor and cultural assimilation in Xinjiang, are purely lies and slanders. [Inaudible], stakeholders who can benefit from separating and undermining China.
